Service Description

L2R deliver high quality and innovative workshops to break down social barriers such as age, race, gender and culture while promoting respect and resilience in the broader community. They aim to actively engage and foster artistic talents in the west of Melbourne while empowering and transforming the lives of young people through the power of dance.

Next Gen is L2R's largest program with high enrolment and participation levels, which makes this class extra vibrant, fun and high energy! We love the chaos!

This program unites young people aged 12-25 years from across Melbourne's west and is suitable for all levels of dance. Some of the Next Gen participants have been members of L2R since 2010 which allows for peer to peer mentoring. Next Gen members work hard to train in different styles of dance with a spotlight on hip hop dance and culture. Our focus is on the process of learning and liberating the body through movement so we can let loose and soak up the endorphins. Rec West Braybrook
